

15 Free Printable Music Posters

ColorInMyPiano.com

Hello teacher,

Thank you for downloading my 15 FREE printable music posters! In this PDF, you'll find a selection of music-related images sourced from public domain websites that are perfect for easy and beautiful artwork for YOUR music studio space. As a bonus, at the end of this PDF I've also included 4 nature-themed prints you might enjoy for a child's play space or other area of your home.

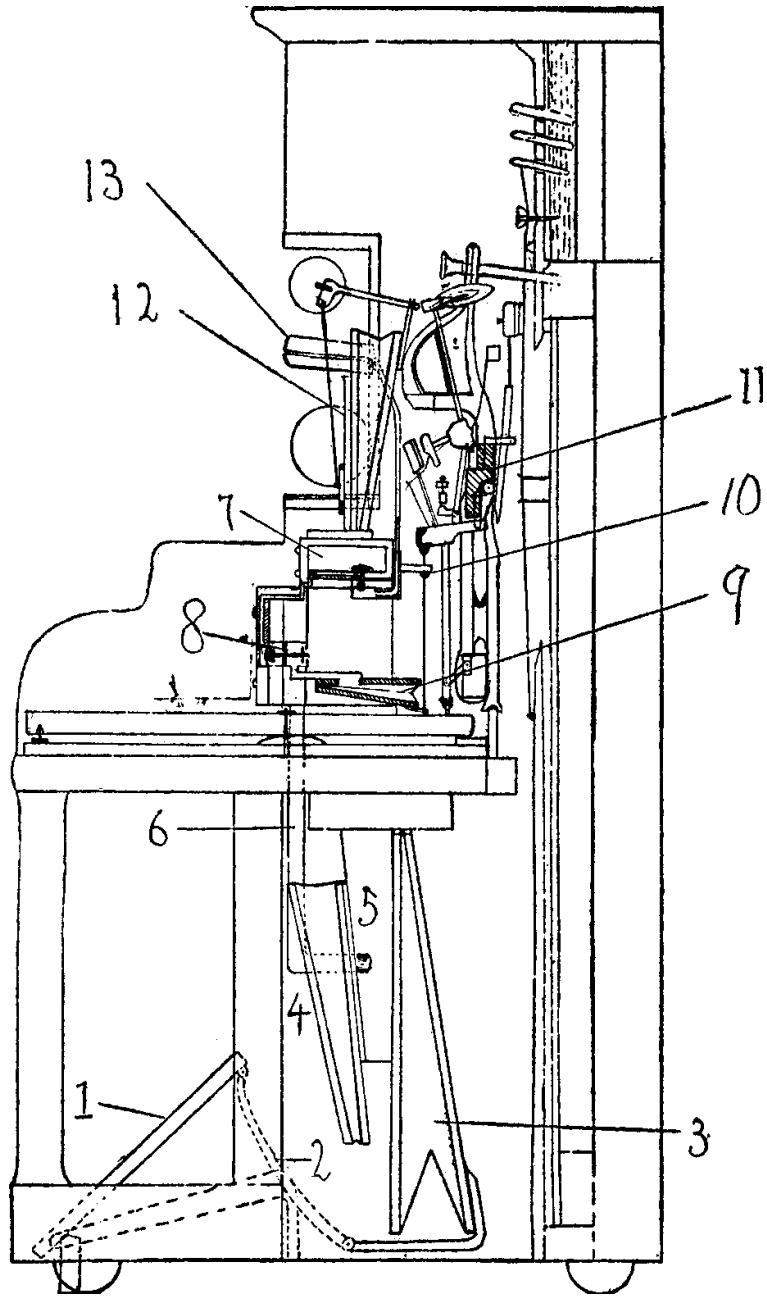

Here are a few tips for printing and hanging your artwork.

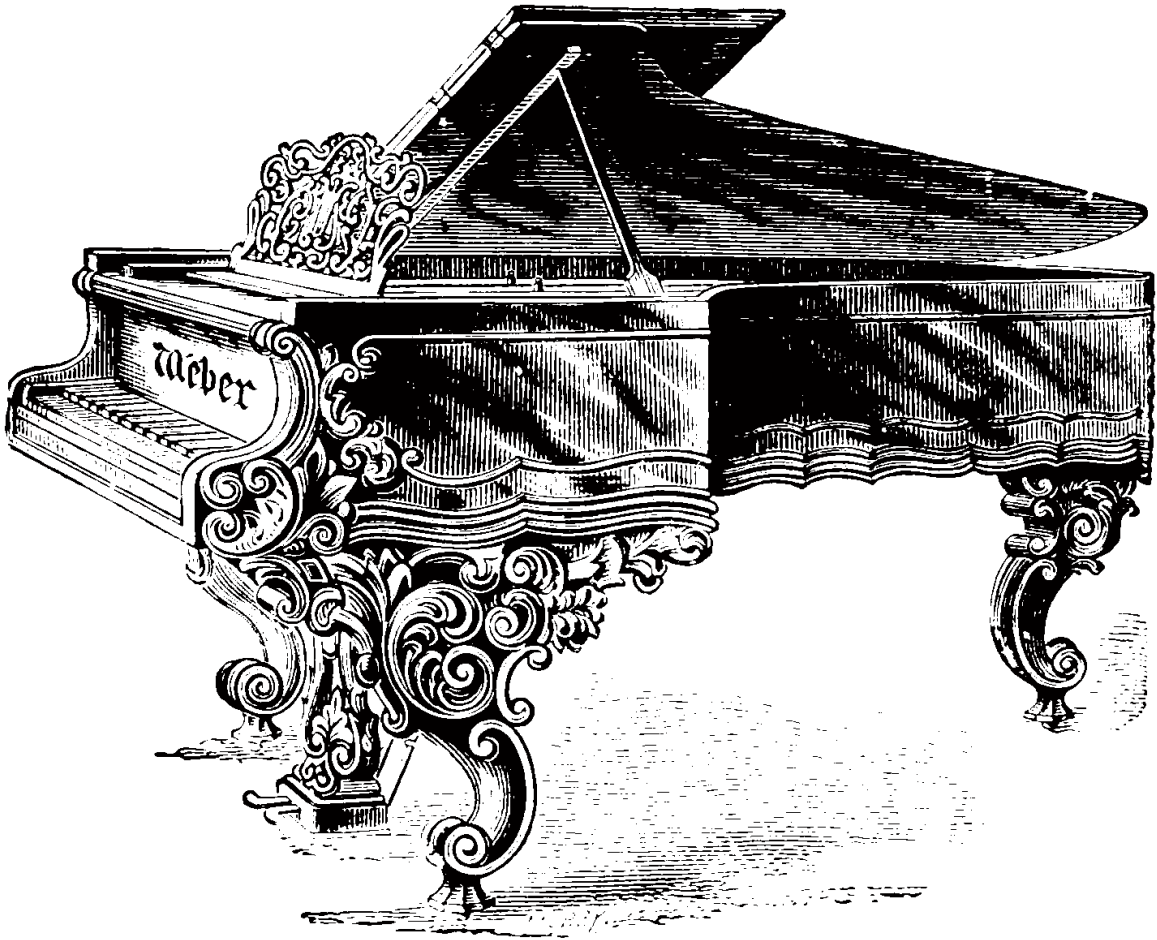

- For the best quality print, I suggest using a laser printer instead of an inkjet printer — especially if the artwork you've selected is in full color. If you don't own a laser printer, you can always have the printing done at a print shop. (If you are a member of MTNA, you can use your Office Max/Office Depot discount card!)
- I suggest printing on slightly heavy paper, such as cardstock. You could also consider laminating the page, as long as you don't mind a glossy look!
- Here are a couple of framing options:
 1. I love the look of the 8-inch Magnetic Poster Frame Hanger pictured above, so that's what I chose. Magnets embedded in the wood pieces are used to clamp to the top and bottom of the poster, and then the artwork is hung using the string. It's an affordable and attractive way to hang your artwork, plus it's easy to trade out the artwork whenever desired. I trimmed a quarter inch off the left and right edges of the paper to make the width exactly eight inches to match the frame. Here is a link to the poster frame hanger (click here) and some clear plastic hooks that are perfect for anything lightweight (click here).
 2. Alternatively, you can use a regular picture frame. You can use size 8.5"x11" or 8"x10", but you'll need to trim the paper slightly to fit the latter.

Voila! That's all there is to it. I hope you enjoy your new artwork!

WEBER PIANO.

UPRIGHT PIANO, STYLE 14

Chickering pianos

THE RESULT OF SKILL, inspired by a keen appreciation of the artistic and a desire to live up to an enviable reputation, directed by the latest scientific knowledge, and practical experience gained by eighty-five years of piano building. ¶ The resulting excellence, both as to tone, touch and general staying power, is the reason and the only reason for the uniformly high favor in which it is held in exclusive musical circles. ¶ It is conceded to be a standard of comparison for all other makes.
